Conor Controvers

Ine Flyer

Salisbury State College Salisbury, Maryland 21801 Vol. VII, No. 4 October 24, 1979

October 24, 1979

Around Campus . . .

Pre-Registration Week Nov. 5-9

The week of November 5-9 is ADVANCED REGISTRATION WEEK for Undergraduate Degree Students. During this period, students will be selecting courses for Spring '80. The Registrar's Office will be distributing registration material in the fol-

Dorm Students will have registration packets delivered to the dormitories on Monday, October 29.

Commuting Students may pick up registration materials from Monday, October 29, thru Friday, November 2 at the following times and locations:

9 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. 4:30 p.m. - 10 p.m.

Lobby, Holloway Hall Switchboard, Holloway Hall

SNEA Certification Speaker Tomorrow

On October 25, Joanne Jackson will speak on certification in Maryland as well as other states. She also will discuss special areas of education. This event is open to all students and would be especially beneficial to education majors both elementary and

If you are interested in joining SNEA please contact Dr. Garigliano of the Educa-

PAC Users Must Have ID Card

All students using the Magg's Physical Activities Center for free recreational play must present a valid SSC ID card upon request. This policy is designed to ensure that only bona fide persons use the facilities.

Areas open for recreational play during free gym time are the main gym, racquetball courts, and weight room. The operational hours of the PAC are Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 10 p.m., Saturday 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Sunday 12 noon to 6 p.m. Any time in which there are no classes, athletic contests, athletic practices, or other scheduled events, the facility is open for free recreational play.

Attention Education Majors

All Education Majors are encouraged to begin planning for the Spring Semester. Advisors will be available and appointments can be made through the department secretary, Caruthers Hall, Room B-152.

During the Program Planning Week, November 5-9 all students taking education courses must get their Program Planning sheets stamped prior to submitting them to

A registration table will be available in the Education Office, 12 p.m. until 4 p.m., information, contact Dr. Horne at ext. 481. Monday through Friday.

Hillel Looking for Members

Jewish students, where are wou? Hillel is looking for you! Hillel is the Jewish organization for Jewish students at SSC. We provide and promote various cultural as well as social activities throughout the year. Within the last week we have gained five new members. Where are you? Come meet your fellow Jewish students at our next meeting on October 24 at 7 p.m. in Caruthers Hall 103. Don't hide in the woodworks. Come be a part of Hillel, your representative organization on campus.

Adult Swimming Instruction

The Wicomico County Chapter of the Red Cross and the Office of Volunteer Services at the Holly Center in Salisbury will sponsor Adult Beginner Swimming instruction at the Holly Center pool. The course, taught by Karen P. Carney, will be offered Wednesday evenings from 7 to 8:30 p.m. beginning November 7 and continuing through January 17 (with the exception of Wednesday, December 26.) Those interested should contact the Red Cross in Salisbury or Volunteer Services at the Holly Center.

Spend the Semester Break in Jamaica

The Department of Geography and Regional Planning is sponsoring a winter minimester academic field study trip to Jamaica from December 29 - January 11, 1980.

"Jamaica 1980!" is designed to allow students a rare opportunity to observe, analyze, and interact with a physical, cultural and economic environment much unlike their own. By understanding and experiencing what it "feels" like to live in a small, less-developed tropical country, the student will also gain a different perspective on what it means to have lived in a large, more-developed nation here-tofore.

The approximate cost of the two-week trip is $675, which includes all airline flights, all meals, all lodging costs, and all transportation services on the island.

'Jamaica 1980!" will be conducted by Professor David Block of the Department of Geography and Regional Planning. It is open to all SSC students, but enrollment is limited. Applications are now available in Professor Block's office (209 Devilbiss,

Theater Trip to see Night and Day

The fall's second English Department/CCPB theater trip will be on Tuesday, November 13 to Washington's Kennedy Center to see Tom Stoppard's Night and Day. Starring the internationally recognized Maggie Smith, Night and Day centers around British press reporting on a rebellion in the fictional African nation of Kambawe.

Tickets at $5.50 each for students, faculty and staff will go on sale at the informa tion desk in the Student Center starting October 29. Ticket price includes bus transportation to and from the Kennedy Center. Our departure time of 3 p.m. from Tawes Gym parking lot should allow for dinner before the 7:30 p.m. curtain. For further

Come visit the newly redecorated Snack Bar & Pub

Enter the name the Pub contest

From the Snack Bar

Free small fries with purchase of cheese steak sub

Limit to first 50 people with coupon after 8:30pm

Pub Hours

Monday 8:30pm - 12pm

Tuesday & Wednesday 8:30pm - 12pm Thursday 8:30pm - 12pm (if no other campus event)

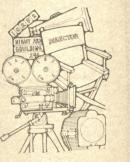

Friday & Saturday 8pm - 1am

Pub Highlights

Monday Night Football Pub open until end of game

Movies Look for listings of feature films

* suggestions appreciated

Little Jimmy's Nite Club

Live Entertainment Monday thru Saturday

Friends of the Family (Floor show nightly)

Oct 29 - Nov 3 Three for the Show

Nov 5 - 10

Carouse

Nov 12 - 17

TSMB Featuring Harvey Hub Cap

Second Nature

Monday & Tuesday

1/2 Gallon Premium Beer $1.95

Alexander Street off of Rt. 13 North of Salisbury

Phone 742 - 3666

The C.C.P.B.'s Up Coming Events:

Wednesday, October 24 Snapping: Flo Conway, Jim

8:00 pm Holloway Hall Auditorium Students: Free, Public: $3.00 "America's Epidemic of Sudden Personality Change"

Thursday, October 25

Muddyhole Coffeehouse presents: Tom Beam 9:00 pm Maryland Room Dining

Friday Flick: The Rocky Horror Friday, October 26

Picture Show 7 & 10 p.m. Holloway Hall Auditorium, Students: .75 Faculty/Staff: $1.50

Tuesday, October 30

International Film Series: Je t'aime Je t'aime Free; 7:00 pm Devilbiss Auditorium

Thursday, November 1

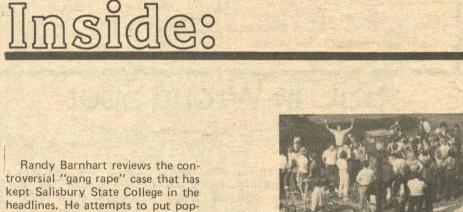

Muddyhole Coffeehouse presents Bluegrass Concert 8:00 pm Holloway Hall Auditorium Students: $1.50 Faculty/Staff/ Public: $3.50

Friday, November 2

Friday Flick: Heaven Can Wait 7 & 10 pm Holloway Hall Auditorium, Students: .75 Faculty/Staff: $1.50

Wednesday, November 7 Bloopers with Herb Graff

8:00 pm Holloway Hall Auditorium Students: Free Public: $3.00

troversial "gang rape" case that has kept Salisbury State College in the headlines. He attempts to put popular misconceptions about the incident to rest, after interviewing some of the men involved. The girl has decided not to press charges and stated she was a willing participant. The only question remaining is her mental state at the time of the incident. The investigation

Vol. VII, No. 4

Herb Graff of WNET-TV, New York will present his collection of Bloopers in Holloway Hall two weeks from tonight. Captain Kirk and James Cagney star in this collection of flubs, outtakes and commercials. Student tickets are available at the Information Desk . .

The SSC women stickers defeated Towson State on October 13, but lost to the University of Maryland three days later and then crushed Loyola two days after that. Also, Jerry McGuire, sports editor, talks about the gridder's recent offen-

Cover photo by Randy Barnhart.

Reporters: Doug Bell, Charlotte Collins, Andrew Davenport, Sue Elliott, David Gorman, Charles Hill, Beth Leonard, Sue dent body of Salisbury State College,

Photographers: Alvin Bailey, Marshall Coulbourne, Tim Jones, Peggy Pedone

Cartoonist: Tom Bouton, Patrick Car-

Production: Vonda Bowen, Shari Gough, Jeanne Greenert, Cynthia Hoffsommer, Kevin Regan, Robin Young

Office Assistant: Lee Worthington

Subscription Manager: Sue Harper

The Flyer is published biweekly during the regular semester by the stu-Salisbury, Maryland. The business and editorial offices are located on the second floor of Holloway Hall, rooms 202 and 214.

The Flyer is represented nationally by the National Educational Advertising Service, 360 Lexington Ave., New York, New York 10017.

The Flyer welcomes Letters to the Editor for publication. Letters must be signed, but names will be withheld upon request. Commentaries will be accepted from any student or faculty member.

Commentaries and Letters to the Editor reflect the opinion of their authors and not necessarily those of The Flyer or Address correspondence to The Flyer, Salisbury State College, Salisbury, Maryland 21801. Phone 546-3261, ext. 246.

Student Viewpoint

Editor-in-Chief - Julie Coffren Financial Manager - Randy Haney Photography Editor - Randy Barnhart Production Manager - Joe Lefavor Managing Editor - Paul Decker

News Editor - Pat Bailey Entertainment Editor - Faye Bounds Sports Editor - Jerry McGuire Advertising Manager - Sal Gentile

SSC In Wrong Spot

With all of the adverse publicity Salisbury State College has received the past two weeks, we at The Flyer have come up with a solution for this dilemma.

Helicopters will hover above the campus and one by one will pick up each classroom building, dormitory, and of course, the dining hall. Then, they will travel about 30 miles south on Route 13 and drop these buildings off in the Pocomoke Forest. Thus, SSC's new mailing address will be Pocomoke State College, Pocomoke Forest, Pocomoke, Maryland.

The moving of the former SSC will be beneficial in many ways. Commuters will have ample parking spaces and will only have to fight with the trees and wild animals of the forest instead of with other commuters. Then, we will be able to make as much noise as we want, and we can even sing along with wild critters in the woods. Perhaps one of the greatest benefits would be that we could have parties any night of the week and would not have to worry about the town of Pocomoke giving us a liquor license because we would be located so far in the woods that they would never hear us. We would only surface in the town when we left for weekends or semester break. The town and the whole Eastern shore would never see us and would not know of our presence.

Sounds like a good solution, doesn't it? What we really need here in Salisbury is about a quarter mile of land on each side of the college. Then, the town would be relatively separated from the college and its noise. The neighbors across Camden Avenue would not be kept up all night, and they would not have to worry about students parking in their front lawns because many more parking spaces would be available. Then, the liquor board would not be wary of giving us a permanent liquor license because they would never see us with a quarter mile on each side of the campus.

The possible cause of this whole problem is that the town of Salisbury just isn't ready for this college. SSC grew too fast for the town. The students who come to SSC from the Western shore are bringing in new ideas, and the people of Salisbury just aren't ready for them. What other colleges in Maryland have trouble getting liquor licenses? Probably just SSC. Do other college towns dislike the students of that college as much as the townspeople of Salisbury do? Not that we know of. Sure, the citizens always talk about the college students, but do they ever stop to realize how much business the students bring them? Salisbury thrives on the Ocean City traffic in the summer, and without the college students in the winter, the profits of the fast-food restaurants along the Route 13 strip would

Granted, some of the students' actions here leave something to be desired, but we all aren't bad. We just need a little understanding from the residents of the town of Salisbury. Come on, give us a chance. We'll prove

Suitcase Syndrome Inevitable

Salisbury State College, as is common knowledge, has the image of a "suitcase college." The term refers to a good portion of the student body traveling home on weekends due to lack of something better to do.

Many have complained about this situation but the complaints have not produced tangible results. The CCPB is trying to rectify the situation but is restricted by limited funds, (so what's new) and inferior facilities.

The college is burdened by an enormous debt that does not appear to be getting any better. So the alternative of granting additional funds to the CCPB for weekend entertainment is not the answer.

The point here is that Salisbury seems destined to be a suitcase college. Once students arrive at SSC, they become familiar with the weekend situation and adjust their lifestyle accordingly. For many, the weekends at home keeps them in school. These students want to go away to school, but not too far away. With the Baltimore/Washington metropolitan area so close, Salisbury State seems a logical choice. Students can earn a quality education while still being close to a booming metropolitan area or weekend entertainment. The suitcase image is not hurting this college, just those students who ness since I first heard about the incident cannot make it home on weekends. The college's enrollment will not a few weeks ago, I feel a great need for drop. The school has reached its maximum growth potential as set by the reaction; on my part and on the part of state Board of Trustees. Those who drop out will be replaced because anyone with even a trace of humanity in Salisbury has qualities that are attractive to students. The faculty is them. excellent and usually very willing to help. The cost of education is relatively cheap. Facilities for improving one's physical self are excellent. Athletes get a better opportunity here than at a bigger school. In other words, SSC will continue to attract students despite its suitcase image, which, by the way, some students find attractive.

This problem, if one considers it a problem, will continue for at least as and personally assaulted. The magnitude long as the school is in debt, maybe longer. The administration could conceivably feel that weekend entertainment is not important in an for even me. academic setting. Many students have resigned themselves to the fact that weekends are dull, and they go home. The remainder wish the situation was better but do not have any alternatives. What can be done? SSC, there exist such creatures as those historical development of the two schools. The solution is certainly up to the students, because they are the ones boys, who are supposed to be futurebeing hurt, not the school.

Letters To The Editor Student Appalled background. I find it hard to believe the

I am appalled by the opinions of some students and faculty concerning the alleged sexual misconduct of some of the men on campus.

At one end of the spectrum are those who assume guilt and see the need for immediate and severe punishment. At other end are those who see no possibility of quilt and are more concerned with school athletes than with seeking justice. What we need is a viewpoint from the middle.

The incident is and should be investhe law should be prosecuted. If they are convicted, they will be punished. Trying convicting, and punishing, by due process, is the court's responsibility, and we can not take their place. This is how our judicial system was designed to function.

On the other hand, if no law has been violated, no public action can be taken. We can only attempt to foster higher moral standards and a greater sense of responsibility among our friends, family, and acquaintances. Still, sexual conduct. within the bounds of the law, is a private preserve both the rights of personal sexual choice and personal safety.

Senior Feels Pity

I feel an outrageous anger and very nauseating sense of pity.

After having been in a state of numb-

For that girl who was victimized, I share her pain and humiliation. I myself have known the bizarre feeling of an abusive sexual encounter. For no justifiable reason one feels guilty, ashamed of this girl's abuse makes it unimagineable know that within the small society of which few of us consider, that is the oriented young men from an educated all of those males involved have no conscious feelings of remorse for their actions. For those who don't, my only plea is this: Would you feel the same way if it were your own mother who was in that compromising position? She was a young girl once, you know!

You young men owe to someone something which you can probably never give her. But I suggest you try some sort of restitution; simply to gain back your own sense of self-respect. Or don't you have any? Do you know what that is? If not, you better learn. Grown-up life is a whole lot easier if you have it. You're tigated and those suspected of violating to it, deal with it and get something done

Start with an apology.

A senior who's seen the hard side.

UMES vs. SSC

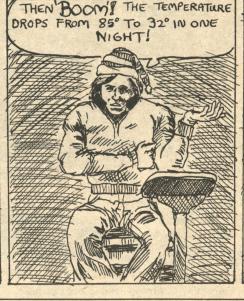

I read the anonymous letter published in the October 10 issue of The Flyer regarding the comparison of per student With this type of standpoint, we can costs between UMES and SSC. I was particularly concerned that the author's perception of the so-called "costs differential" between the two institutions was that of reversed discrimination. But that is one of the pitfalls of ones not considering all the appropriate factors. First and foremost, it does not seem reasonable to make one-for-one costs comparisons between UMES and SSC since the former is a land grant institution with considerably more laboratory-oriented programs than the liberal arts college which SSC represents. But if the author persists in n analysis it might be more accurate and fair to consider all costs involved, i.e., the money originally appropriated by the legislature plus funds requested later to cover any deficits incurred. I noted in the newspaper that SSC had in fact accumulated a deficit in the amount of $800,000. Would not a true analysis of the referenced years take such a deficit into consideration? Would it not alter what is currently being discussed as the per student cost at SSC? I would think so.

There is also another dimension to the I also find it very disheartening to costs issue between the two schools UMES was established over 90 years ago,

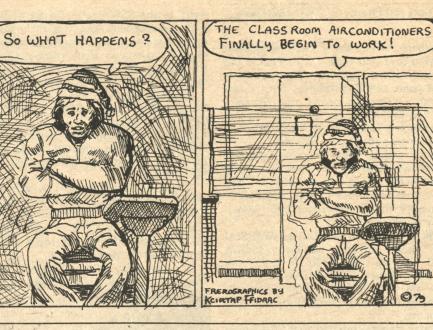

Continued to page 5

THERE WE WERE, ENJOYING THE USUAL WARM OCTOBER WEATHER

Letters to the Editor

Continued from page 4

Whatever

while SSC was started some thirty years later. Somehow SSC was given the dollars to develop while UMES was strangling to death. SSC was allowed to duplicate UMES's program and thereby chip away the student body on that campus. For example, the physical education program at UMES was originally granted $500,000 by the state while SSC received $5.4 million for their own facility. The result is that SSC is now a thriving campus with modern structures and UMES is just now, finally getting some attention.

I would invite the author not to begrudge UMES for having finally gotten the attention of the legislation: let's applaude them. However, it is only when UMES receives the same attention as SSC that we can help that institution reach its greatest potential.

I am a graduate student at SSC and I would think twice before criticizing the institution. However, I cannot afford to sit back and allow some misinformed person or group to compare these two institutions on emotionalism instead of

Gloria James

Get Priorities Straight

Dear Editor:

This morning around 2:15 a.m. there was a knock at my front door. I thought I was hearing things, but when the dog began to bark I knew someone was there. After managing to get out of bed and to the door, I found one of my students standing there. He apologized for waking me and asked if he could spend the night on the sofa. He muttered something about a demonstration on campus and that he was getting sick of the whole

In the morning we talked for a few minutes. He said he came to college to learn, not watch one hassle develop after shake us out of our complacency. We ceranother. He also felt that perhaps he tainly have been receiving it. Let's use it. should transfer. I told him that hassles are a part of living, a part we cannot escape. They also provide opportunity to grow.

In the back of my mind, however, I was aware of a sense of personal mental anguish. Over what? Priorities. In that our college's reputation was tarnished by a scandel of almost unbelievable proportion. we once again made the news by demonstrating over alcoholic beverage policies. This morning I noticed the media grabbed it immediately. Within one hour I heard about the demonstration three times over radio and television.

Priorities. I think of the countless students who ask their peers which professors

Priorities. How many faculty and administration become so involved in commas, periods, and other nit-picking that the larger humanistic and intellectual values are relegated to the background? Priorities. How many students are more concerned over the grade on a paper ceived from the experience? Priorities. How concerned are the administrators on the other side of the bay about the quality of the learning experience? Or is it more important to have rooms filled with warm bodies? Priorities. How about a college-wide demonstration for academic integrity? How about a march against human injustice? Better yet, how about finding ways to do something positive about important issues?

Perhaps the public is somewhat justified, if students who have talked to me are accurate, in thinking our main interests are partying, booze and sex. After all, that is what hits the front page. I am far from being a prude, but there does seem to be a problem ... somewhere.

One concern I have heard expressed is that we may lose students because of the recent problems. I would hope not. There are challenges to be met. We are a fine institution. We have an opportunity to constructively help. In addition, these challenges can provide learning experiences in living the questions. In the long run, recent events can serve as a means to attain levels of academic and community living much higher than ever.

The happenings of the past week prompted me to apologize to one of my classes for not having my batteries charged quite as much as usual. It is extremely difficult to operate at peak power when there are short circuits all over the place. Fortunately, there are plenty of rechargers available in the form of most of our stu-

Maybe we have needed something to Let's learn. Let's grow.

Ray Zeigler

Library Responds

What's this I hear about librarians? I wish people would realize that librarians are human beings!

No matter how much schooling one has had in the field of library sciences, it takes a while to get accustomed to differteach the easiest courses, not for the pro- ent library systems. Each library may fessors who demand that their students look similar in some aspects, but each runs just a little different than the other.

Sure, Mrs. Sickmund knew where everything was. She was one of the best librarians SSC has ever had. But goodness! She worked at Blackwell Library for over twenty (20) years. That's why she was quick in finding reference materials. When she first started at Blackwell or in a course than in what they have re- Library, I wonder if people were complaining about her too!

Blackwell Library hired people for this reference desk job who would best fill Mrs. Sickmund's position. The library staff has hired excellent, qualified librarians who need a little more experience with our library.

So . . . if you keep sitting in the corner crying about the library, the reference librarians won't be able to help you. By asking for help, at the same time, you could be making their jobs a little easier. "Give them a break!"

Kathleen P. Wynn

Discrimination...

Dear Editor:

Two runners start a race. At some point during the race it is noticed that one of the runners has lead weights tied to his ankles, thus causing him to fall behind. Being it so that it is impossible to start the race over what should be done?

This situation as described by the Reverend Jessie Jackson is analogous to the thought process involved in 'reverse discrimination.' In the last issue of the Flyer (October 10, 1979 . . . pg. 4) there exists an article on "another good example of reverse discrimination." The article by the staff of the Flyer pointed out facts like 'The University of Maryland Eastern Shore, a predominately black school, received more than twice as much as Salisbury students.' Lets go back to our analogy. It's has been discovered that UMES students have both economical and socio-economical 'lead weights' tied to their ankles. The fact that over 85% of blacks attending fulltime institutions could not attend without any sort of financial aid because their income and the income of their parents is about half of the total income of the other runner (the whites). The fact that this greater need for financial aid shows up in the form of increased revenue to predominantly black institutions should cause one to think about why the need exist not 'why does this situation exist?' or 'Are the students at UMES worth twice as much as SSC students?' The writer with all his facts does not even know what discrimination is and through his continuous questioning throughout his article cannot even know what reverse discrimination implies or means. Ha! The topic of his own editorial he cannot reach a conclusion shows the amount of thought and insight went into this inept expression of insecurity and

I am not writing this letter on behalf of the Black Student Union, nor, am I writing it on behalf of blacks on campus since they know what situation is and do not need to be reminded. I am writing it to and for the staff of the Flyer and those readers who may sympathize with the article they wrote. Open your Mind! Open your mind for your eyes are seeing but are not comprehending. Should not the runner in our analogy have the weights taken off his ankles (increased financial aid to black students)? Should not the runner in our analogy have the weights taken off and allowed to catch up with his opponent . . . (allowed quality education)? This is not the first time I've written to the staff of the Flyer on 'snow blindness', please come to grips with yourself! Your mind is very important part of yourself. Blacks have suffered enough while allowing for white peoples' eyes to do the thinking. The writer of the article mentioned 'This editorial will probably end up in the wastecan of some legislator in Annapolis.' I doubt if it gets that far, and besides the trashcan would be an improvement. Please, once again, staff of the Flyer and readers who thought positively of the article 'Discrimination hurts SSC' Open your Mind! Else you're diagnozing the symptoms while the disease is spreading undetected.

Anthony 'Tony'

Sherry Says Thanks

Recently I was injured while cheering at the Hampton-Sydney football game and was taken by stretcher to the hospital. Although the accident was serious, it wasn't able to get me down only because of the wonderful people on

So many people, including friends, ZTA sisters, fellow cheerleaders, RA's, teachers and even security, helped me in so many ways. If it wasn't for them, I would have been at home getting even more behind!

The visitors, flowers, cards, special testing arrangements, and genuine care I received brightened my days in bed and helped me to recover. I just want to extend my warmest thanks and love to everyone (especially 1A Chespaeake -Connie and Colleen) and say that I couldn't have done it without you all!

> Sherry Kimble Continued to page 10

Salisbury Sex Controversy Brought Into Focus

Where do you draw the line between making love and rape. That is the question many Salisbury State students have been asking themselves for the last month. During this period, the SSC campus has been the center of controversy surrounding the sexual escapades of a 19 year old sophomore, Miss X.

This article was researched through interviews with 15 of the men that participated in the gang bangs. They consented to an interview to inject some factuality to an occurrence built principally on hearsay.

Miss X's sexual encounters with SSC men didn't become publically known until Thursday, Sept. 20, in the house on John Street. That afternoon from 3 p.m. till 6:30 p.m. she entertained students in the house rented by some SSC

Participants estimated that 30-40 men climbed in bed with Miss X. This was the alleged party where 100 men had lined up, tied her to the bed and inserted foreign objects into her.

One of the men living at the house house commented on the Thursday afternoon incident. "I had been out all day long and when I got home, I couldn't believe what was happening, guys were walking around the house with no clothes on. Then I went to the bedroom and there she was. There were people peering through the bedroom windows to get a better look at her. I told those guys to get out of the house as soon as I got home. And, there was no beer at the house."

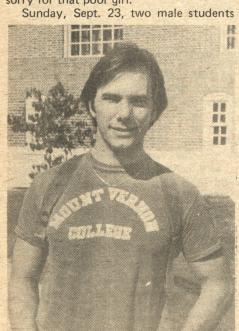

Other observers noted that "she was really into it" and that "she teased the guys on.'

When the gang bang was over, Miss X dressed and left the house around 7 p.m.

Friday, Sept. 21, Miss X hit a house on Princeton Avenue where the numbers were less than five men. Friday and Saturday she returned to John Street and they realized she needed medical help. Of the various places Miss X entertained, the students in the John Street home made the only attempts to care for her. Besides feeding her, they begged her to contact the Health Center on campus.

Saturday, Sept. 22, she took on three men in Chester Hall and then hit other dorms as well.

As a result of this three day spree, the campus was buzzing of the news of the girl who couldn't be satisfied. In the cafeteria, students were standing on their chairs just to get a better look at the girl. Some students called her a slut and others just laughed. Three weeks later, those same students would say they felt sorry for that poor girl.

the editor "Student Abused."

p.m. and met with Mrs. Rosemary Cupp, the nurse on duty. They told her about Miss X and asked her to help her. One of these students who came forward was a member of the SSC wrestling team.

Monday morning, Mrs. Cupp notified the Student Affairs Office headed by Orem E. Robinson, Jr. Six p.m. that night the two informants went back to the Health Center. They quoted Mrs. Cupp as being upset that Robinson's office had Tuesday, Sept. 25, Miss X was seen with a bicycle taken from a home on Princeton Avenue. After offering the bike as a gift to some of her friends, she took the bike to her room on the second floor of Manokin Hall.

She was spray painting the bike when Wayne Hurley, SSC police officer, entered her room. Hurley took custody of her and she spent the night in the lounge adjoining the security office in Nanticoke Hall. The next morning, she was taken to Peninsula General Hospital and then was transferred to Eastern Shore Hospital Center in Cambridge.

Shown is Frank Luber and an EveWitness News cameraman ready to interview con-

That same day, Edmund Delaney, psychology department chairman, discussed her activities with his General Psychology class. He was not alone, other teachers incorporated Miss X into their lesson plans throughout the incident. What gives them the right?

While she was in the hospital, the rumors slowly faded as October rolled

The incident was close to dying out until the Oct. 10 edition of The Flyer contained a letter from Joseph and Michelle Mohler. The Mohler's letter attempted to describe the incident. They claimed 100 men sexually raped and molested her. They also diagnosed her as a schizophrenic and that as a result of the abuse she received, she would never bear children. Wrong on

If only they had their facts straight, this entire incident might never have been blown out of proportion. Miss X admitted later she had not been harmed

Thursday, Oct. 11, The Daily Times, a Salisbury paper, ran a story describing the incident as stated in the letter and printed the college administration's reaction to it.

A spokesman for the college claimed the administration had no prior knowledge of the incident. They claimed they didn't even know if students were involved. That story got things rolling.

The weekend of Oct. 12, 13, 14, gave the press time to entrench on the Joseph Mohler, co-author of the letter to campus and get some material on the Maryland President of NOW, Carol Klemm expresses her viewpoint on SSC morality.

SSC students, and women from NOW converse while the media absorbs their actions.

Monday morning, the press pounded the halls of Holloway Hall until 5 p.m. when Norman C. Crawford, president of the college, issued a statement. This statement had been very carefully worked out with the aid of the attorney general's office representative, Jim Mingle.

Crawford revealed the administration did know about the incident on Monday, Sept. 24. However, they chose to lay low on the incident for fear of invading the woman's privacy. If the college were to make allegations, they could be involved

Thus, a question will remain un-some of the men involved.

Miss X issued her version of the incirecorded. In that conversation, she office are still investigating the incident charges against the men and that she wants to get this mess over with.

state's attorney, claimed the tape recording "eliminates any case for forcible rape." However, "We are questioning

Under the law, when a mental disorder is present, a person cannot consent since they are deemed mentally

In laymen's terms, it's only a crime

City Police, will meet with Miss X on express our concern or disapproval. Tuesday, October 30. Meanwhile, Miss X's records (high school transcripts, val three weeks ago?

housing and medical records from SSCI will be due at the state's attorney's office today as a result of a summons issued last

Even with her records, the investigation lacks her psychiatric records and the report filed by Officer Hurley when he took custody of Miss X, Sept. 25.

Psychiatric records are only available when permission is granted from the

As for the report filed by Hurley, it has vanished from the files in Security. No one seems to know where it is.

As if the press corps weren't enough, answered. Should the college have noti- the National Organization for Women fied the outside authorities or was it (NOW) decided they, too, should join proper for them to have taken the easy the bandwagon and get some free publicity. In a protest in front of Holloway Thursday, Oct. 18, Miss X left the Hall, Carol Klemm, Maryland President hospital and returned to Salisbury. She of NOW, claimed the college administrawanted to end this mess, so she met with tion has a callous attitude towards the Kenneth Heland, an attorney representing incident and that they condoned the behavior of the students involved.

So, the investigation is far from over. dent to Mr. Heland while being tape Both police and the state's attorney's revealed that she opposed bringing to find the facts, then sort them out. If they are granted permission to review Miss X's psychiatric records, they might Richard Warren, the Wicomico County have a better shot at determining her mental state during the semester.

Until then, the forty men involved will hold their breath for they realize the police have the names of some of

Finally, last Friday, Crawford issued a statement to the campus community. In it he urged, "Each of us must attempt to overcome our social conditioning f she was mentally incompetent and her 'not to become involved,' to pretend behavior was such that the other parties that we didn't see. Together, each of us must attempt to break these habits and Detective Elton Harrington, Salisbury take the initiative to intercede and to

Where was this concern and disappro-

Security Institutes New Parking Rules

"I think the parking situation is great! I don't see any problems," said a senior resident assistant.

"Believe it or not, it's working" said Security Supervisor John Horn. "We started out issuing 50-100 tickets daily. Now we have reduced that to an average of 10-15 a day."

Unusually, besides a stricter enforcement this year, only one change has been made from last semester. Before, one warning was given for illegal parking, and then the cars were towed. Now, a new system has been introduced, where the first violation gets a warning, the second violation gets a $5 fine, and the third violation gets a $10 fine. After this, parking privileges are revoked.

According to Charles Bettes, of the Division of Administrative Services, the fine money goes into a special funds account. When enough money is accumulated, it will be given back to security for expenses. Horn hopes to eventually be able to buy a reference computer for locating decal and license numbers with Brewer of Asbury Church about students with this money

A few students, however, are trying to give security the runaround. Some do not pay the fines, and simply park cars offcampus to keep from having them towed. These people will not be able to re-register their vehicles until the fines are payed.

Some students are not even bothering to register their cars. If these people are caught violating parking rules, they will not be able to register their vehicles at all.

Horn said his men appear to be satisfied with the new regulations. So, the system seems to be working-or is it?

What if one gets to school and all the spaces are taken? Horn says that the library lot has unrestricted parking from 4:30 p.m. to 8 a.m. One can also park in any lot on campus after 6 p.m. on Fridays. But what if one needs a parking space at some other time? The result is that many students are forced to park anywhere they can fit their cars. Consequently, security has received numerous complaints from the medical center, the Maryland State Bank, Pappy's, and Rev.

The

The College Center

parking on their property. Rev. Brewer, however, said that he didn't mind students parking in the church parking lot, as long as they didn't park on the grass.

There reportedly just aren't enough parking spaces. Decals are issued to faculty on a ratio of three faculty to one space. One commuter says that when she gets here in the morning, she has to park so far away that is takes her as long to walk from her car as it does to drive to Even with the new parking lot, the situation hasn't improved. Visitors without parking decals can only park in the six parking spaces in front of Holloway Hall. When these are filled up, they have to park off-campus.

What can be done about it? If left up to Horn, the entire college would have open parking on a first-come, first-serve basis. No lots would be assigned to students, faculty, or administration. Obviously, this suggestion will not be

"Change

your image"

Information

Desk

Health Food Mix

$.55+tax

Applications Now Open For Internship

By David Gorman

Applications are now being accepted for internship positions with the Maryland General Assembly in Annapolis for the spring of 1980. Internships are available for all Salisbury State College students, although juniors and seniors are usually given preference.

This state-wide program, now in its fifth year at SSC begins in January when the General Assembly convenes and continues for 90 days. According to Dr. Harry Basehart who heads the program at Salisbury the objective is, "to give students some exposure to practical politics. . . on the spot experience unachievable in the classroom." Basehart added, "Out of 131 total participants in the state, nine were from Salisbury last year.'

Each student is assigned to one delegate or senator whom they work for exclusively. The student attends meetings and other functions in Annapolis Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays. Duties range from basic office work to assisting in the the drafting of amendments. Since each student is faced with finding a place to stay in Annapolis for the three day period and traveling expenses, a $300 stipend is provided to every participant.

Basehart feels it takes "a major commitment on the part of the student because of the great deal of time and effort needed." Students are granted nine credit hours for the experience. . . six credits for the work performed, and three credit hours for the political science internship seminar. In addition, another three hours must be taken to total 12 hours for the semester.

Brenda Egeberg, who participated in the internship last year, found it to be rewarding and interesting. Egeberg, a liberal studies major with a concentration in political science, found her activities ranged from "going to hearings and keeping files, to running errands and answering Anyone intersted in the program with a political science or history background should contact Dr. Harry Basehart HIH 378 for an application. Applications are due no later than November 1.

10% discount to SSC students

GIANT SUBMARINES

	Whole	Halt
Cold Cut	1.95	1.10
Hamburger	2.00	1.15
Cheeseburger	2.20	1.20
Steak	2.20	1.20
Cheese Steak	2.40	1.25
Shish Kebab (Filet Mignon)	3.10	1.80
Whes phalia	2.60	1.55
French Fries	.60

FAMOUS ORIENTAL SUBMARINES

Chinese Steak Sub..... 2.70 1.60 Chinese Chicken Sub...... 2.60 1.55 Chinese Pork Sub 2.60 1.55

> Fri and Sat 11:00 AM to 3:00 AM 4:00 PM to 10:00 PM

Restaurant & Carryout

724 South Salisbury Boulevard (Across from Mr. Donut) 546-4464

Vietnamese - Chinese - American Foods Serving Beer & Wine

Sally Crafton, March 28, 1979

"The two types of subs the six judges tasted from the Asia Restaurant were the Chinese steak and shish kebab. The steak, which is fried in a Chinese wok with various spices, was the one the judges liked best. A lot of tender meat with wonderful Oriental flavor characterized the sub. The shish kebab sub was also outstanding. The chunks of meat are cooked over a fire Mon thru Thurs 11:00 AM to 10:00 PM and have an excellent charcoal broiled flavor. Try the

LAURIE'S HAIR DESIGNS

Drugfair / Safeway Complex Phone 742 - 6598

Hours 8:30 - 5:00 Mon-Wed 8:00 - 7:00 Thurs-Fri

BY APPOINTMENT OR WALK IN

HOMECOMING - SALISBURY STATE COLLEGE"

Get ready now with a new perm or new hair style. Let us help you create a look that will cure the Mid-Semester Blues. Remember - the big Homecoming Weekend is November 9-10, 1979 so call now for an appointment.

Students Disgruntled About Restricted Alcohol Use and Social Functions

By Julie Coffren

Another Friday night, For most, it's time for socializing, relaxing, going to parties, meeting people, and just having plain ole' fun. But for some of the Salisbury college student population, the above described situation is a rare occurrence this semester.

"If something doesn't happen fast, spending weekends at SSC will be like staying in a ghost town out West," remarked one senior. This student, like many others, hinted that the present alcohol situation on campus is causing as big an uproar as the World Series.

Overall, the students feel the policy is too restrictive and most are disgruntled about the lack of social activities on cam-

The problem, reportedly, is not with the policy, but rather its interpretation. Relatively few changes were made to the previous policy. Now, however, the administration is enforcing the rules and regulations which they set up. Dorm residents, the resident assistants (RAs) and possibly the housekeeping crew are to attend campus social activities," having great difficulty getting adjusted to the new "interpretation.

the problem of enforcement. "The RA on change it monthly. It is enforced erratone floor will tell you to not to drink in ically. This month we will enforce and the lounge, and then you go to another next month we won't. If they are going building, and the RA doesn't care if you to have it, it should be uniformly enfdrink in the lounge," said a senior English forced," another commuter added.

One other frequently heard gripe is that students generally feel they are being of the complaints because their job is to at $6.63 an hour for a total of $343.38 ripped off. "I don't really understand the enforce the policy. "The students are for a breakdown. The total salary for policy and I don't think other students do. It has created an atmosphere of tension and confusion. Students feel their rights has affected them the most. They are $8.19 an hour. Table rental amounted to as adults have been infringed upon," another senior stated.

"What we are looking for is a solution which is mutually acceptable to both the administration and the students." commented Student Government Association President Bernie Moyle. "I feel that the administration has to comply with our needs and desires and yet the students open beer from room to room within a have to realize that it is necessary that we exhibit mutual responsibility.'

 The following are responses to the question, 'What is your opinion of the alcohol policy?'

"We should be able to drink in our lounges. There is a "No Trespassing" sign outside the dormitories, that means this is private property, so we should be able to drink in the lounges and hallways," commented a Chester resident.

"I think it is far too strict," added another Chester resident. "It doesn't give the students any leeway at all and consequently, we get bored. I think on weekends they ought to have more activities for the students because the students can't afford to go out places."

"We don't have any place to go. You can't always go to the Pub, and what's more, you can't expect the whole campus to go to the pub. It is too small," a sophomore said.

ing the question because I am not sure year when the parties were over in the what the present alcohol policy is," a

"I think they should at least change it to the way it was last year," another student commented.

"The existing policy doesn't allow for any exceptions, and I feel each activity should be considered individually. The alcohol problem has just been transferred to the dorms, which makes it worse on the other residents," a Chesapeake resimet one new person this semester, now general usage fee was $989.88. This exwhether that is attributed to the lack of cluded the cost of the band.

Dr. Crawford met with student leaders in his office Friday following Thursday night's demonstration. Pictured dorm lounges, kegs are limited to the whether that is attributed to the lack of cluded the cost of the band.

parties or not, I don't know," a December '79 graduate replied.

A first semester freshman commented, "I heard that SSC was a partying school, but I find it very quiet. There is just nothing happening. Nothing goes on."

"I think that a lot of people are going to wind up transferring because it is incredibly boring unless you are an upperclassmen and you already have your own set of friends. In fact, I might transfer," another freshman reflected.

"It is already October and everybody is still dissatisfied," another Chesapeake

"I feel there is nothing wrong with the alcohol policy. The amount of money it costs to schedule an event is the problem. If we could have the parties, that would take care of everything," a Nanticoke

"People are wandering from dorm to dorm looking for a party," she continued. Even the commuters are feeling the effects of the "dry" Thursday nights. "Less organizations are having parties which gives commuters less opportunity senior commuter student said.

'Well, I think they need to come to One major complaint of the students is grips on what the policy is and not  chronically complaining about every little set-up was $442.45. In addition, two thing that they can think of. This policy electricians were needed and their bill was play their stereos," said one RA. He continued, "They just feel like they are living in a prison camp. As an RA, it looks like we are the wardens be- be willing to put up at least $800 for cause of the policies we have to enforce."

of all, they said you can transport an of money. building. But, they say that you cannot stop or drink in a public commons area, care of these financial matters, but in so, therefore, when you see somebody in the hallway and approach them and ask them whether they are in transit, of course themselves. they are going to say yes. So, therefore, you run into a problem of enforcement because you cannot accuse them of drinking in the hallway."

"I think there is an information gap between not necessarily the RAs and the residents, but between the residents and housing. Housing doesn't make it clear enough to the residents about what they to air some of the student's concerns are allowed to do and what they are not allowed to do. I think they mainly leave it up to the RAs. I think the residents don't like accepting the facts about the alcohol policy from the RAs. I think they would like to hear it from a higher authority figure," another RA reflected.

A member of the SSC security force commented that it seemed as if the students were staying up later and were "I am not sure I am capable of answer- patrolling the dorms more, unlike last Dining Hall and everyone usually went home and slept.

> In essence, the gist of the problem is students have nowhere to go to socialize (except the pub, which cannot be the sole entertainment source), the prohibition of drinking a beer in the dorm lounges, and the exhorbitant fees organizations must pay in order to hold a dance

For example, the College Center Program Board held a semiformal dance in "There is no place to go anymore. We Maggs Gym on September 15, 1979. The just sit in our rooms and drink. I have not total bill for security, maintenance, and Look of frustration on students' and Dean Robinson's faces indi cate the touchy situation surrounding the alcohol policy.

A breakdown of these charges revealed that the security bill amounted to $51.75, whereas the larger portion of the bill was for maintenance. The CCPB paid for seven men for eight hours to set-up the gym at $7.15 per hour as well as two student. workers at $2.90 an hour. Furthermore, for eight hours five men were used for The RAs are reportedly receiving a lot breakdown at $7.30 an hour and one man even complaining about not being able to $100 and the CCPB paid a facility usage

So, realistically, an organization must maintenance and security, and very few Another RA commented, "Well, first campus organizations have that large sum

> In years past the college had taken light of the recent $800,000 debt, organizations now must pay these charges

Now, you might wonder, what is being done about this problem that is foremost in the students' minds?

First of all, some members of the administration met with representatives from student organizations in an attempt to his left is Carol Williamson, associate dean of student affairs (staff photo by Randy Barnhart.)

about the alcohol policy. The first meeting our opposition to the present alcohol the most recent meeting was held on from Housing, Counseling Services, Security, Administrative Services, Student Affairs, and the Health Center along with various officers of the Residence Hall Association and the SGA attended this Basically, the students voiced their opinions about the policy, and the administration listened.

"The administration is being cooperative in general", commented Moyle. "They realize that there is a problem and they want to solve it."

Moyle said he is working to get one interpretation of the alcohol policy and one source for any questions or appeals regarding the policy. Then, once this intrepretation is composed, he wants to take it to the SGA General Board for their Students, too, are also working to clarify this problem. Residents of Chester Hall composed a petition which says, in part, "We, the resident students of Salisbury State College, wish to make known was held on Tuesday, October 16, and policy . . . Our aim is not to prolong but to end this controversy by initiating a Monday night (October 22), Members working relationship between the administration and students that will provide an atomsphere of mutual cooperation and lead to the satisfactory solution of this problem that affects the entire community." At least 250 students have already signed this petition, and the number is growing. ******

Some students may remember the days of the all you can drink parties. Now, they remain a thing of the past.

Last Thursday night about 250 students gathered on the quad in protest of the ment with options where a student alcohol policy. The instigators of the pro- organization can give prior options for test had just left a closed party for cafeteria workers in the dining hall. Slowly students who were in bed heard the chanting and joined their fellow students on the quad."Policy sucks," "P-O-L-I-C-Y" "We want beer," and "SSC on to victory," filled the airwaves. Then, the suggestion was made to file over to Dr. Crawford's house, and the participants swarmed around his house. Then, SGA President Bernie Moyle yelled into the megaphone that the administration had that we can be responsible drinkers and agreed to see students tomorrow and the not destroy everything," said Moyle. crowd slowly left.

The next day (Friday) Crawford met with various administrators and student leaders in his office. At this meeting he said, "I have the right to declare prohibition on this campus, but I wouldn't do that." The main issue of this meeting was the use of alcohol in the lounges and the use of facilities on campus.

Moyle reiterated, "The high costs of cafeteria parties prohibit the clubs, sororities, and fraternities from having a

Crawford returned, "We can experisetup and cleanup with a time penalty if it is not carried out."

What he means is that contracts may be signed between an organization and the college and if the organization doesn't fulfill their part of the contract, their next facility request may be denied.

In the meeting with Crawford, the decision was made to have a new beginnings party. "This will give the students a chance to show the administration "Faculty, administration, and students will be invited." This party is tentatively scheduled for next Saturday, November 3. ******

Some good has come out of the new policy. Barry King, assistant director of housing, commented that less trash and beer bottles litter the campus. "I would attribute this to the enforcement of the alcohol policy." Furthermore, he said that so far this semester, damage has not been as great in the dormitories. "Based on conversations with housekeepers and RAs, I get the kind of feeling that the damage is down a little bit from what it was last year. The alcohol policy might be a factor, whether it is the key factor or not."

Well, each year the policy and its interpretation has gotten more stricter and the social activities are fewer. Seniors now long for the days of their sophomore year. The 15-Kegers, $1 all you can drink parties are a thing of the past. Gradually, with each new incoming class, they are being taught new policies and once the old timers are weeded out, the days of parties in the dining hall will be history. Think about it, each year it's gotten harder to drink alcoholic beverages. By the spring of 1980, all the students who were here in 1977 will graduate and the new incoming class of freshmen will know nothing of the old days. If this trend continues, three years from now, alcoholic beverages will be non-existent on this campus. It's food for thought, isn't it?

College facilities are used for parties and a campus pub is available. Also, the possession and use of beer allowed at outdoor athletic events. The students at Western Maryland are working closely with Student Affairs because they know the privilege can be taken away if abused.

Washington College in Chestertown also discourages parties but doesn't restrict them the way Western Maryland does. The number of parties is not restricted, nor is the number of kegs. Students are allowed to drink in their rooms and have parties in the lounge. The Dean of Student Affairs explained that the school had few rules on alcohol because of the small number of students (750). Also, they don't have as many constituents to answer to as SSC does.

Catholic University of Washington, D.C. allows parties in the lounges as long as an RA is informed ahead of time. A temporary license must be obtained for a party of this sort, and 60% of the guests must be over 21. When parties are not in progress, students are allowed to drink beer and wine at campus functions. policy at the moment, but is in the process of writing one.

At the other end of the extreme from SSC, is the University of Maryland at College Park. Although not comparable in size to SSC, the alcohol policy is worth looking at, if for nothing else, perspective.

Parties are allowed only six nights a week with no more than two a night The school has no formal restrictions on the number of kegs, they leave it up to the residence halls to police themselves. No campus-wide policy exists, instead a residence hall policy is enforced.

The residence halls must obtain a county liquor license for a party, requiring a fee and notarization. Unlike Salisbury, Maryland students usually have no problem getting a license. Also, a 5% Maryland sales tax is charged on the amount of beer sold. The University also allows what they call the "closed party phenemenon", or in other words, drinking in the lounges and hallways.

This article, hopefully, has given SSC students an idea of alcohol situations on area campuses. Maybe the administration will take note and make life a little more pleasant at SSC.

SSC Denied Both Temporary and Permanent Licenses

By Julie Coffren

Salisbury State College had its temporary six day liquor license suspended Monday at a meeting with the chairman of the liquor board with Orem E. Robinson. SSC dean of students, and Dave Ganoe, director of the College Center,

"The alcoholic beverage board has received numerous complaints from the community about the volume of drinking going on here," said Ganoe. SSC utilized a six day temporary license for operation of the pub and any other campus parties during the week. Now, however, the College must apply for the liquor license on a day to day, party by party basis and the word from the liquor board is that SSC will only be granted licenses for Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights. What this means is that the pub will not be in operation Monday, Tuesday, or Wednesday nights and will be open on the remaining nights of the week if the liquor board sees fit to grant a one day license. Furthermore, campus parties where alcoholic beverages are sold will held only if the liquor board

"We will be awarded licenses as usual this week (Oct. 22 through 26) and then next week we will get a temporary license for Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights only," said Ganoe, "The period after this we will go a week at a time, after that license to license.'

license was the publicity from the alcoho demonstration on campus last Thursday night, the party which was held off-campus last Friday night, and because of complaints from members of this college about the pub. He added that a citizen alleges that he saw two students passed out on the table in the pub and that some students were served beer without having their ID cards checked.

In further licensing news, the College also withdrew its application for a permanent liquor license on Monday, October of Administrative Services in regards to the withdrawal of an application for a permanent liquor license at Salisbury State College.

"Dr. Crawford (president of SSC) couldn't spend the time to prepare a presentation on behalf of the college at the meeting," he continued.

Yobst said the college applied for a permanent beer/wine license approximately six months ago. However, SSC applied for this license under the name "College Center_Club" and it was turned down because of the opposition rom the town manager of Princess Anne.

SSC had to wait six months before applying for another license, and the six month time period expired on Monday, October 15. Yet, SSC officials sent a letter to the Wicomico County Board of License Commissioners that night withdrawing the application for the license to sell beer and wine seven days a week, because of the adverse pubicity surrounding the sex incident.

'We got word that there was a lot of public concern expressed to one of the liquor board members. The licensing agency itself had a number of calls before 9 o'clock Monday morning stating that they were going to be in opposition to the application." Yobst added.

The liquor board is composed of four people from the Salisbury community and these people vote on behalf of their constitutents, the Salisbury com-

"We think the students have to be He said that one of the reasons for the aware that the college does not dictate suspension of the college's temporary what the County will allow us to do in terms of licensing on campus for use of alcoholic privileges in public areas," Yobst reflected. "The students have never been supportive of the licensing at the hearings. They are expressing concern about the uses of alcohol on campus now under the present setup. Perhaps they should become aware of the need for concern in dealing with the licensing

If the board denies any type of liquor license, the college may appeal the decision. "If we are turned down locally, there can be an appeal made on a state "We withdrew the request because level and people from outside the Salis-Westminster, does not schedule parties of adverse publicity that was taking bury Community would hear the presenduring the week. The coilege has a class C place in town and because of the climate," tation and make a judgement," Yobst are upset with the manner in which the alcohol policy is being administered. Many claim the policy's interpretation to be inconsistent, while others say it is cleared through the vice-president of downright restrictive.

SSC Alcohol Policy Compares Poorly to Area Colleges

Salisbury's because they all fall under the jurisdiction of Board of Trustees of action. the State Universities and Colleges. nterpretation, however, varies.

At Frostburg, parties are allowed any ght of the week. These parties do not take place in college facilities, but in the estimated number of people in attendance.

Open beer is not allowed in the lounge

Student Affairs, therefore few beer busts Frostburg and Bowie State College take place. Drinking is only allowed in both have similar alcohol policies to private rooms, and if the students become too loud, they are subject to disciplinary

Trustees' jurisdiction have different

Colleges not under the Board of policies and interpretations. Western Maryland College, a private school in liquor license that allows them to serve said Richard N. Yobst, assistant director added.

The students of Salisbury State College area on other occasions, unless in a shaded glass. Their policy is to encourage social interaction and responsible drinking. At Bowie State, all parties must be

Over 250 SSC Students Respond To Academic Survey

In a survey recently taken to help dein Salisbury State's class schedule, students decided to extend classes by five Maryland requires its state colleges and universities to hold 2,250 minutes of credit course. Salisbury State presently. holds 2,100 minutes per semester. The conducted a survey in the College Center week later in May. and the Holloway Hall lobby to determine 150 minute deficit.

Letters to the Editor continued from page 5

responded to the survey which asked them to choose one of eight suggestions cide how to make up a 150 minute deficit or make one of their own. The results:

Only one student picked any of three suggestions which would require Saturday semester into two eight-week quarters meeting for 75 minutes, five days a week.

Student Academic Affairs Committee week earlier in August and ending one academic calendar, which calls for a 14

Seventeen wanted to do away with the how students would like to make up the three day Labor Day recess in the fall and asked the committee to conduct the survey start the spring semester one week earlier after the Board of Trustees for State

Nineteen preferred no Labor Day Holiday, with the spring semester ending one week later in May.

Four students gave their own sugges-

One hundred and eighty eight students, Ten students chose to break up the a 74.3% majority of those responding, chose to extend each class five minutes, class time per semester for each three with a recess in between, each class with Monday-Wednesday-Friday classes meeting for 55 minutes and Tuesday-Fourteen preferred starting classes one Thursday classes for 80 minutes. The week semester, would not be changed.

Dr. A. Nayland Page, academic dean,

the 150-minute deficit, according to Committee Chairman Jay Deputy.

According to Deputy, Page will decide how the deficit will be made up after studying the student survey. A similar survey, this one of the faculty. was written by Dr. John E. Lewis, profesof Business Administration and Economics and conducted by Dr. Thomas Erskine, professor of English. The faculty survey will also be studied.

Deputy said the change may take two years to be administered if the sports calendar has to be changed to accommodate the new class schedule.

Murdock Mistaken

Dear Editor:

The following is in response to a letter printed in the previous publication of the Flyer. In that letter, unreasonably entitled, "Flag Football Dangerous", Mr. C. R. Murdock, a falsified name by the way, accused both the Director of Intramurals and the officials who run the Flag Football Program as being spineless. This response is how we, the officials, view our program and the stereo-typed attitude of those participants such as Mr. Murdock.

In Flag Football, as well as in all other Intramural activities, certain objectives of the ideal are strived for. As observed by Mr. Murdock, anticipation of a good time with friendly competition and healthy exercise are certainly a part of our objectives. However, when former varsity and high school players participate in Intramurals they tend to follow instinct rather than rules. For this reason officials must learn to control the procedure of any game and in doing so enforce the rules. As with all organized sport, the official or officials are at a disadvantage, for their one or two angles, they must control the entire conduct of the game. In almost all cases the official calls what he sees, and doesn't call what he doesn't see, even though the spectators and was expecting a jump in the college players may disagree. Here at SSC, fellow students officiate all the Intramural games, this creates peer pressure in what is already a tough job.

C. R. "Blood and Guts" Murdock feels he or anyone else on campus can do the same or if possible better job we would gladly let you have your chance. By the way, "You gotta play to win."

> Tim Coleman Chris Bosies Wallace Cook Mic Stanziale

Editor's Note: C.R. Murdock did not wish to use his real name, but he is, in fact, an SSC student who participates in the flag football program.

Transfer Upset

The article entitled, "Weekend Entertainment Nonexistent" in last week's Flyer inspired me to write this letter. I am a transfer student from Anne Arundel Community College which is just outside of Annapolis.

When I transferred to Salisbury, I social life. Since I have been here, the "social life" has been one of the most embarrassing things I have ever seen. place and high school are that people The typical College atmosphere just is not here. To date, I can only recall one, high school. that's right one, big party on campus that we were allowed to have. Every other attempt at a party has been plagued by security guards and R.A.'s doing what they have been informed to do. I don't blame these people for doing their jobs,

Salisbury State College is an extension of high school. A person cannot be seen with an open beer on campus, students can't have parties with people in the halls, and everything that happens is all but ended at 12:30 on a weekend.

The last school I attended made a better attempt at letting the students have a good time. Even though it was a Community College (everyone commuted) the social life was better than here. People didn't have heart attacks if you had a beer in your hands.

People around here better start facing the facts. The social life here is a joke. The biggest differences between this live here, and there are more parties in

To quote last weeks Flyer, "The S.G.A. should get involved, since they are here to serve the students. In the meantime write letters to The Flyer, to the administration, and specifically President Crawford. The next alternative but a change in the rules seems necessary. might be to transfer to another school.' The last alternative is the easiest, and I'm sure that at this rate I will transfer again by next semester. How are we supposed to tell upcoming college students to go to a college with no social life. This is supposed to be a College town. Let us do some of the things we want to do on weekends and this school might finally lose its long-living title of being the reigning "Suitcase College of Mary-

Mike Kelly

Discover Arby's® Reef A tasty onion roll, Arby's special dressing, slices and slices of Arby's tender roast beef, topped with melted cheddar cheese sauce. Discover Arby's Beef 'N Cheddar today. You're eating right at Arby's.

A Gull's Eye View

What Weekend Activities Would You Like to See at SSC?

some good concerts,'

"The Greeks having more activi-Penny Davis

"Better movies and more discos and parties," Myra Mills

"The buildings on campus should be more open to activities again," Sam Alexander

"I would like to see more concerts and get people more involved in intramural sports," get the whole campus involved," Tracy Kavanagh

Philip Wheatley

'Keg parties or anything that can

By Linda C. Wurm

Snapping is coming on Wednesday, October 24 at 8 p.m. to the Holloway Hall Auditorium of Salisbury State College. Snapping is a lecture by Flo Conway and Jim Siegelman concerning America's epidemic of sudden personality changes.

Snapping is a term Conway and Siegelman use to describe the sudden, drastic alteration of personality that has become an American phenomenon in the past decade and is spreading fast. Snapping is visible among religious cult members, ter's and doctoral work at the University today's popular self improvement mass of Oregon. There she pioneered one of and provides the core of a special postscript to this lecture that calls for ways to control the present threat to the future mental health of our society.

Different cults will be discussed such as the Manson Family, EST, the Unification Church, Scientology, Life Spring, The Way, Hare Krishna, the Divine Life Mission, and Synanon. Personality changes in individuals such as, Patty Hearst and the Son of Sam will be included.

Conway is a graduate of the University New Mexico and completed her mas-

Get "Snapped" in Holloway Tonight

therapies, and within the Evangelical the first interdisciplinary programs in movement. The authors point out that mind altering techniques employed by these groups tamper with the kind and quality of information fed to the brain through isolation, repetition of chants, monotonous music, intimate touching, lack of sleep, physical duress, and fatigue. All of these tactics can affect the brain's ability to process information and may and a national newspaper syndicate. result in impaired awareness, irrationality, disorientation, delusion, even violently destructive acts. The People's Temple massacre of November 1978 is an example are $3.00.

Communication, drawing on the social sciences, cybernetics, systems theory, and theoretical biology. Siegelman graduated from Harvard with honors in both Philosophy and English and was awarded the Fiske Fellowship at Trinity College, Cambridge. His articles have appeared in New Times, Playboy, Harper's Weekly,

Tickets for Snapping are available at the College Center Information Desk. Student tickets are free and public tickets

Kirk, Cagney Star in Bloopers

By Linda C. Wurm

Captain Kirk, of the Starship Enterprise, will trip over steps, and James Cagney will speak Yiddish at Herb Graff's presentation of Bloopers on Wednesday, November 7. This program, dealing with goofs from the visual media, will be held at 8 p.m. in the Holloway Hall Auditorium.

Graff includes a 15 minute segment with goofs and flubs from films, TV shows, commercials, Army training films, and newsreels, with particular emphasis on outtakes from Star Trek.

Other hysterical clips from films include scenes which never reached the general public and include sequences dedicated to censorship back in the 20's and 30's. Segments depicting black sequences of films that were cut down when shown in the 30's; outtakes from and public tickets are $3.00.

King Kong because of violence; and an outtake from a 1931 Douglas Fairbanks Sr. film (before censorship) are also included. This film was reissued in 1939 after his death with the same excerpt excised because of the Hays Committee.

In the two hours of amusingly narrated film clips, Graff shows a newsreel outtake of Jayne Mansfield awarding a foreign global award to Mickey Rooney, whose face reaches Manfield's renowned bust. Rooney's ad lib is hilarious.

Graff is the curator of films at the Brooklyn Museum, while acting as film consultant to WNET/Channel 13 in New York, Town Hall, and the Brooklyn Arts and Cultural Association.

Tickets for the bloopers program are available at the College Center Information Desk, Free student tickets are available

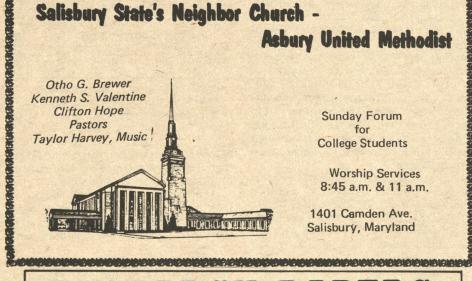

Howie Bolton A Disappointment

On Thursday, October 11, singer, songwriter Howie Bolten of Erie, Pa. played at the Muddyhole Coffeehouse. His performance lacked the enthusiasm, originality and humor that is usually a trademark of Muddyhole.

Bolton's nonchalant performance could be attributed to the modest size of the audience. Only a fifth of the usual audience turned out due to the World Series premier on the same night.

On October 25, Tom Beam, also of Pa., will play at the Coffeehouse at 9 p.m. The remainder of the Coffeehouses this semester will be held in the Maryland Staff Photo by Tim Jones. Room of the Dining Hall.

RESEARCH PAPERS

10,250 on File — All Academic Subjects Send $1.00 for your up-to-date, 306-page mail order catalog.

> ACADEMIC RESEARCH P.O. BOX 24873 LOS ANGELES, CA 90024

NAME
ADDRESS
CITY
STATE	ZIP

By Linda C. Wurm

The Rocky Horror Picture Show Friday, October 26

The Rocky Horror Picture Show is probably the oddest, most off-the-wall film ever made by anybody anywhere. This kinky horror tale has finally found its way to SSC after making appearances at practically every college in Maryland and Virginia. The Rocky Horror Picture Show stars Tim Curry, Susan Sarandon, Barry Bostwick, and a special appearance is made by Meatloaf.

The film concerns a young couple who stumble into a castle inhabited by weirdos from the planet Transylvania. At the castle they meet Dr. Frank N. Furter, a transvestite Frankenstein in rhinestone heels, and his muscular blond monster whose bizarre appetites are satisfied by first seducing the girl and then conquering the boy. The music from the show is funny, with a song entitled "The Time Warp" which has an accompanying dance.

As everyone may or may not know, this movie is designed for audience participation. For those of you that wish to do so, please do it! Also tell your friends and neighbors about the crazy participant activities which include: shouting names and lines out loud, throwing hot dogs, rice, snapping mousetraps, and squirting waterguns. A wild and crazy time is expected from the antics on screen and

> Heaven Can Wait November 2, 1979

An all star cast literally shines in Heaven Can Wait, Warren Beatty's first producing effort since his highly acclaimed Shampoo. Heaven Can Wait is a romantic fantasy about Joe Pendleton (Warren Beatty), a quarterback for the Los Angeles Rams, who is summoned to heaven before his time, and the chaos and confusion that result from the error. The cast also includes Julie Christie, James Mason, Dyan Cannon, Buck Henry, and Jack Warden, Nominated for four Academy Awards (and an Oscar winner for Art Direction and Set Decoration), this thoroughly contemporary comedy is a

Misplaced Ideals Invade America

By Donald J. Kolb

Sad Cafe from England has made an impressive American debut with their album Misplaced Ideals. They play a brand of art rock music that is uncompromising in its lyrics, production and musicianship. This is the group's third album, but it's the first to be released in the United States.

The band is composed of Paul Young: Lead Vocal & Percussion, Ashley Mulford: Lead Guitar, Vic Emerson: Keyboards, John Stimpton: Bass, Acoustic Guitar & Vocals, Ian Wilson: Electric, Acoustic 6 & 12 string Guitars, Vocals & Percussion group was signed by A & M records in the fall of last year.

From the opening song on side one, "Restless," the music takes you. The scribe this music "Beautiful."

album is split between rockers like "Black Rose," "Restless," Shellshock," and ballads like "Hungry Eyes, Feel like Dying, and I Believe Love Will Survive." The ballads are so inspiring it's unbelievable. The groups first top forty hit is "Run Home Girl" combining solid vocals and an up tempo beat. The music on the album is clear and precise almost to the point of perfection. Instrumental solos abound throughout the album. After seeing the groups perform. with Santana and Eddie Money at the Capital Center, I was assured that Sad Cafe could play their music live, not just and Tony Zoksen on Saxophone. The in the studio. The album will appeal to all tastes. I am more of a hard rock fan myself, but this album brings it all together. There is only one word to de-

Designer Jeans Calvin Klein Skirts & Jeans Percussion Tops Assorted Velors Jones of NewYork Jasmine Teas AND MORE!

Rainbow's End

Students 10% off with this ad.

next to Hair Odyssey

Art Show in Blackwell

Instructors Display Talents

By Faye Bounds

The Faculty Art Show, an annual event, is on display in the Gallery of Blackwell Library. The works on exhibition are drawn from the medias of ceramics, sculpture, fibers, painting, prints, drawings and photographs. They represent views from abstract to realistic.

The purpose of the show is to take a retrospective view of the art faculty's work. Many faculty members have displayed some of their work from a minimum of five years ago up to as many as 10 years ago. Many of these entries are as well as the costs of purchasing any the sketches showing the processes and stages of the work on display.

Marie Tator, ceramics instructor, has recently returned from a teacher exchange program where she spent the last year at Southport College in Southport, England. A slide show has been set up in the Gallery depicting her year in England and the experience she has gained from it. If the slide presentation is not in operation upon entering, simply ask the Gallery guard to start it.

For more information, contact the Art Department at ext. 417. Questions about the hours the Gallery will be open faculty's work can be answered by the Art Department.

A Graceful Wooden Sculpture (Staff Photo by Tim Jones)

Na Var Camera

Court Plaza is celebrating

Octoberfest on Oct. 27

Come see our newly expanded store.

On Oct. 27

A Sigma Lense factory representative will be in the store from 11 am - 2 pm

> Camera Clinic 10:30 am - 4 pm

Store Wide Specials

By Big Bird

The British are coming!!!!!! Or at least someone is coming in that pea green helicopter which has been mysteriously landing on SSC's track. Maybe it's the Martians!!! Whatever, all the green uniformed men run toward the helicopter and hop aboard and take off for an unknown destination.

flies are driving me crazy. Everytime I land in my nest, one of those black critters joins me in my dinner. What's more, last night I had just dropped off to sleep and was having this terrific dream about this nice looking robin red breast and this fly landed right on my beak and was staring me straight in the eye. Guess I'll have to go to Shell and buy a no-pest strip, although now some of my friends won't be able to visit me!!!!

Run Gordie Run!!!! SSC's director of financial services (money man) recently placed 82nd out of over 200 runners in the 26 miler held last weekend. Also heard that a 63 year old man placed ahead of Howatt as well as a young woman. Well, you can't win 'em all!!!

Burner, burner, who's got the burner is the familiar battle cry in the dorm kitchens lately. During the dinner hour hoards of residents flock to the kitchens in an attempt to find a spare burner. Wouldn't be surprised to see some poor guy pass out from starvation since the lines are getting so long. I heard some people mention that they are considering buying Bunson burners to alleviate the

Just won't be the same this year without the annual SSC Halloween party. Where will we hold it? No parties in the Dining Hall, Newton House or the Callis Palace. Guess we'll have to haunt the dorms and trick or treat from room to room. Look out for Big Bird!!!!! *****

Big Bird's squawk for the week: "Let's make like horse dirt and

de Sales

Church

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

MASS SCHEDULE

7:45 a.m., 9 a.m. (Folk), 10:30 a.m.

12 Noon

7:00 a.m., 9:00a.m., 5:15 p.m.,

Elementary, Mrs. Mary Sample, 749-3796

High School, Mrs. Clem Lezon,

742-3997

7:00 p.m.

Sunday Masses:

Holiday Masses:

Saturday:

Daily Masses [Chapel]:

Monday - Friday 7:15 & 8:45 a.m.

St. Francis

Salisbury State College For information contact

Missy Sarra or Maggie Ey

Riverside Drive Salisbury, Maryland 21801

PARISH STAFF

Rev. Michael B. Roark, Associate Pastor

Ms. Carroll O'Donnell, Dir. of Rel. Ed. Mr. Linus Ellis, Dir. of Liturgical Music

ADDRESSES AND PHONES

Rectory - 514 Camden Ave., 742-6443 Business Office - 514 Camden Ave.,

School - 500 Camden Ave., 749-6662 School Hall - 500 Camden Ave., envent - 500 Camden Ave., 749-6662 parking lot - receives and sells used clothing. Open Thursday and Saturday, 10 a.m. - 1 p.m., 742-9760.

PARISH COUNCIL

Secretary, Mrs. Marge Seif, 749-4876

Standing Gommittee Chairpersons
Christian Formation, Mr. Carl Dragwa,

Parish & Family Life, Mrs. Marge Seif,

Maura McCartan, R.S.M., Principal

Robert John, Business Manager

Rev. William E. Irwin, Pastor

Mrs. Leora B. Sarg, Secretary

Rel. Ed. Off. - 500 Camden Ave.,

Carriage House - adjacent to church

President, Dr. Edmund Delaney, 749-2417

Liturgy, Mrs. Maureen McAllister,

Parish Administration, Mr. Robert

Social Concerns, Mrs. Bonnie

Rupprecht, 742-0036

546-2908

742-9885

742-3935

749-4876

John, 742-8781

Rev. Joseph J. Drobinski, Associate

Yearbook Anticipates Good Year

assembled for the 1980 edition of the with three yearbook publishing company Evergreen with Vickie Corder and Kaye representatives regarding bid proposals Hearn as co-editors. Vince Leisey is the for the 1980 yearbook. Bids will be sent Several yearbook staff meetings have as chief photographer.

The following are the various sections and the section editors:

Chief Photographer Faculty & Administration Organizations/Honoraries Entertainment Greeks Campus Life Graduation Seniors/Undergraduates

Concert Flash-

November 18

at the CCPB office.

Nighthawks Here on

The Nighthawks, a rock and roll band from Washington, D.C., will appear in

Holloway Hall Auditorium on Sunday,

November 18. This group has extensively toured the United States and they are presently in Colorado. At this writing the contract had been signed and the concert date set, but no further information was available. More details will be revealed in the next issue or inquires may be made

Director and Organist, Mr. Linus Ellis.

SACRAMENT OF

RECONCILIATION

SACRAMENT OF MARRIAGE

Couples contemplating marriage should contact one of the parish priests at least six months in advance of the

Saturday:

7:50 - 8:30 p.m.

date of the intended marriage.

Eve. of First Fridays:

Milton Savage Colleen Bitting Cheryl Homer Tyrone Davis Tricia Bracken Michelle Bower Carol Agriesti Claudia Vorelli Sue McDermott

The new yearbook staff has been The new co-editors have had meetings out by the end of next week.

The Flyer; Wednesday, October 24, 1979 Page 13

The co-editors have also been working been held since the first interest meeting on choosing a photographer to take on October 3. Since that time the various senior portraits. Further information will section editors have been selected as well be available as soon as a photographer has been selected and dates are established.

Section editors have been busy writing letters to each organization on campus requesting information about the organization for inclusion in the yearbook.

Anyone interested in working with the present yearbook staff is welcome to come up to the yearbook office and sign up. The yearbook staff is interested in new ideas, please don't hesitate to stop

Parking Continued from page 7____

Many students and faculty were also asked to offer possible solutions. Most agreed that a multi-level parking garage would solve the problem. However, until the state starts financing college parking garages, a more practical solution is needed.

Also suggested were a lot of compact cars, and a fee for parking decals. The most practical solution, however, was a little more complicated.

Resident students should not be allowed to park on campus. Many students who live in the dormitories just use their cars on weekends. They should have a separate lot, possibly across Rt. 13, to park their cars on and leave them. This leaves at least two entire lots open to commuter students who have to drive their cars every day.

Obviously, resident students who have off-campus jobs would object to having to walk so far to their cars. For them, an exception could probably be made. For those cars, however, that sit in the lot all week until the weekend, it makes much more sense to keep them where they are not in the way of students who use their cars much more often.

For right now the situation will remain the same with commuters fighting for those precious few spaces, while resident students walk to class.

Penny's Hair Palace

Guys and Gals

Shampoo and Cuts - $7.50 and up

Allenwood Center Open Tues. thru Sct. 749-2400

Dry Cuts - $5.00

Shampoo and Sets - $6.00 and up

Pennys Hair Palace

Brosmer Aerials Gives Seagull's Offense Lift

By Jerry McGuire

For the many Washington Redskins' fans that attend Salisbury State, the Seagulls' opening of practice in August was a case of deja vu.

With three veteran quarterbacks returning, in the person of Rex Barbour, Tony Bell, and Bob Brosmer, many were reminded of the epic Kilmer-Jurgensen and Theismann-Kilmer confrontations of past 'Skin seasons. Although the battle for SSC's QB job wasn't as intense, new Head Coach Bill Yeagle and Quarterback Coach Jay Tingle were provided with one of those "pleasant" problems George Allen always talked about.

his chance to play when Rex Barbour hurt his throwing hand before the Hampden-Sydney game three weeks ago. Since stepping into the starting job, Brosmer has completed 38 of 69 passes school record of most completions in one game (16-for 27 against Trenton).

Brosmer credits his prolific showing to: a standout receiving corps, relaxed attitude, an offensive line that gives him more than enough time to throw.

About the receivers, Brosmer says:

And now that the season has two "Mark Staton is so quick he'll be running over the last three weeks, giving the SSC early part of the season. "I didn't have a back. grudge against Coach Tingle, it was just that I wasn't ready to play. I was coming off a shoulder operation last year and I think I was worried about getting hurt, school and two years ago when I started 7-6 lead at the half.

Stickers'

Record 3-1

By Sue Elliott

On Saturday, October 13, the SSC

women's field hockey team beat Towson

University 3-2 at Towson on a slow, muddy field. Susan Ralph Elliott and

Cindy Zile gave SSC their first half goals while Towson's Julie Caprio put Towson on the scoreboard during this period. Lori Ford added SSC's 3rd goal late in the second half. Bev Nealson was Towson's 2nd half scorer. The JV team sophomore Jenny Heinbaugh scored the lone goal in that game late in the 2nd

University of Maryland at home Un-utes into the 2nd half, Soth scored.

Three minutes later teammate Laura games left, Bob Brosmer has taken over a comeback pattern, and makes it look a third-stringer when the Gulls opened like a fly before he makes his cut. Chuck their season. Brosmer has been outstanding Hebron just gets to the ball no matter where it is." Brosmer compared the two quarter on a 28-yard scoring pass but attack added strength with his passing. to the Fred Biletnikoff-Warren Wells could not convert the point after, as was Brosmer was biding his time during the tandem that Oakland had a few years the case the entire afternoon.

and I might have been holding back. I against Southern Connecticut. But now I The Crossland High alumni finally got for his success. "Almost every time we possession with a 94-yard drive that throw, I get at least five seconds to throw." resulted in a touchdown and a 12-10 lead.

With Barbour now relegated to his role spot, Brosmer should start the next two their lead to 18-10. games. He, like the rest of the squad, is for 574 yards. He has also broken the cautiously optimistic that the Gulls can the Gulls moved the ball, but couldn't gain a playoff spot.

opponent) badly, and hope that Millers- The Gull offense would stall and Olson ville is in the top three in the nation when missed two chip shots, field goals that we play them (in three weeks), and that would have given Salisbury the lead. game will be our Super Bowl."

off, but if Brosmer keeps up his aerial tempt, but after the Lions intercepted success, Salisbury has a shot at impressing a Brosmer pass at the goal line, the game the tournament committee for a shot at seemed over. the post-season berth.

Trenton State 18, SSC 16

The Lions took advantage of sloppy conditions against the SSC defense, and stopped the Gull offense from scoring in- catch of the year to put the score Salisbury's four-game winning streak.

Trenton accomplished this despite Bob Brosmer's 247 yards passing. With 16 completions, Brosmer broke a school record, formerly held by Dave Rose with 15 against Madison in 1975.

TSC opened the scoring in the first

Brosmer believes he is a more confident Mark Schnackenburg's 46-yard run after a defense could not react fast enough, and quarterback than in the past. "I used to screen pass from Brosmer. Kenny Olson the Lions turned the corner and gained get the shakes, especially during high kicked the extra point to give the Gulls a yardage in key situations.

used that time on the bench to get my feel more relaxed when I take the field." 10-6 with a 32-yard field goal in the third He also believes that his line is a key reason quarter. Trenton came back on their next

> Trenton scored early in the fourth as punter, and Bell moved to the tailback quarter on another 28-yard pass to pad Frustration marked the SSC effort as score against a Lion defense that would "We'll have to beat Kean (this week's not give up yardage in tight situations.

With two and a half minutes left, A great effort is needed to pull that the Gulls mounted another comeback at-

However, defensive tackle Doug Morris Here are the results for the last two recovered a TSC fumble on the next play, and gave the Gulls life again and the ball at Trenton's 16.

Three plays later, Brosmer hooked up with Hebron for his sixth touchdown side the TSC 20 several times to end at 18-16. The two-point conversion try failed, as did Olson's onside kick attempt, giving Trenton the ball at mid-

> Trenton could not run out the clock, and SSC got the ball again, but fell short in their last-gasp attempt to give Olson a shot at winning the game.

SSC's downfall was their inability to shut down the Trenton option attack. Already dealt a blow by the muddy The Gulls retaliated with a score on turf which led to poor footing, the Gull

Continued to page 16

V-Ball Keeps Improving

By Beth Leonard

SSC's volleyball squad discovered many positive strengths in team skill and technique in last week's two matches, as the She Gulls won three and lost three.

On Thursday, October 11, the netters traveled to Washington College for a trimatch with Cecil Community and Delaware's "B" team. SSC's "B" team fell to Delaware, winning the first game 15-10. but losing the other two, 15-2 and 15-3. The She Gulls then lost to Cecil Community College, and as one player put it, 'We weren't ready mentally." Cecil quickly finished the match with final scores of 15-7 and 15-9. The final match against Washington College saw the Gulls

Salisbury then hosted Wilmington Coland "it was our kind of game."

The rally against Notre Dame was slow

The next home game is scheduled for game saw the netters down 15-3. The Maddox was credited with 10 saves and Elliott scored again seven minutes into Thursday, October 25 against Old second game seemed "much better" to was also successful over Towson as Field Hockey offense attempts score vs. Maryland. (Photo by Randy Barnhart) were singled out for thier excellent minutes later with a score by Kathy fortunately this did not prove to be an inine minutes into the second half.

Half time found SSC with a 4-0 lead. record to 3-1. Ford put the Gulls on the board after just two minutes of play. She came back Le Muir scored off a penalty corner. 14 minutes later to give SSC their second With just 10 minutes left in the game, goal in the first half. Mullican, assisted SSC's Karen Mullican sent a pass to Jane by Hayman, gave the Gulls their third Hayman who went in to score SSC's goal 33 minutes into the game. With just lone goal. The Gulls played a defensive 25 seconds left in the half, Susan Ralph assist from Garriques to give SSC their The tables turned, however, when game by taking a mere four shots to Elliott placed the first of her two goals 2-0 win, making the JV record 3-1. Salisbury faced Catonsville. The first Maryland's 15. Freshman goalie Bonnie into the cage.

Jennifer Sayer and Suzanna Mallow both the second half. She was followed eight Dominion University.

defensive efforts. The JV team defeated Fegan, assisted by Cindi Garriques. With play their best. With good blocking, On Tuesday, October 16, SSC met the Maryland's previously unbeaten JV team five minutes left, Cindy Zile gave SSC serving, and mental awareness, the squad 1-0, as sophmore Sue Stewart scored their final goal. Coach Sharon Tawes defeated W.C., 15-3 and 15-13. commented, "Our passing game was well advantage as SSC lost 3-1. Maryland's Thursday, October 18 found the Gulls controlled. Lori Ford, Jane Hayman, and lege, Notre Dame, and Catonsville Com-Lynn Frame, assisted by Cindy Soth, at Loyola College to make up their rained Kathy Fegan had excellent stickwork and munity College on Saturday, October 13. scored 12 minutes into the first half. out game against Loyola. Lori Ford and powerful rushes at goal." Loyola was the SSC downed Wilmington in the first two SSC was unable to score in this half but Susan Ralph Elliott each scored two first Division III school SSC has played games, 15-4, 15-4. According to Coach held Maryland to one goal. Fifteen min- goals as SSC crushed Loyola College 7-0. thus far this season. The win brings SSC's Arden Peck, the team "played very well"

> The JV team was also victorious against in the coaches' eyes, but SSC came out Loyola College as freshman Gail Courtney on top, with scores of 15-10 and 15-7. into the game Courtney scored and then was not giving Salisbury any attacks so came back five minutes later with an the Gulls had an easy game.

FLYER SPORTSLINE

By Jerry McGuire

In the short history of this column, we have tried to keep a light hearted approach to the world of sport at Salisbury State.

Unfortunately, the events of the last several weeks has changed that.

This is not the place to rehash those events, but to discuss how some individuals see themselves as God's right-hand man on earth and condemn other individuals for acts that these psuedo-judges know of only through third and

Throughout the recent hearsay, innuendo, rumors, and mud-slinging, one face emerges clearly: ATHLETES (despite the fact a cross-section of students was involved) have taken the overwhelming tide of abuse for the incident, and students and faculty who have heard or read information which has no factual basis have taken these "facts" and created a situation in their minds that must be met quickly with the full wrath of their "moral indignation"

One coach has been quoted that "they're out for blood." All you have to do is keep your eyes and ears open to the petitions being passed around, the t-shirts that cry out "Expel the SSC 100", the protests, statements such as "Would a group of philososphers have done it?", and one can see the vultures

For a long time at this school, athletes have occupied a position whereby many consider them The group at SSC. Then we have another group, one that chooses not to participate in athletics or be associated with anyone involved in them, a group that mocks and derides athletes behind their backs.

And now, these people believe they've "got something on the jocks" and want to make the most of that situation.

Why? Perhaps these people are really convinced that what they heard happened (through the letter to the editor in the Flyer and other sources) really happened, and are sincere in their cause. But I believe a large majority of these people envy the athletes for what they have, recognition and a sense of closeness with their teammates that these vigilantes don't or ever would

Because of the events of the last week, it wouldn't be wrong to say that a lot of people throughout this state are convinced that every SSC athlete is a sex maniac and rapist. Anyone who wears the maroon and gold now will have this undeserved black mark on him. Hopefully, this situation will be short lived, and the damage done to SSC's reputation slight. We also hope that those athletes have suffered needlessly do not take the actions of a few to mean the whole campus is against them as this certainly is not the case.

I anticipate this column may engender heated reaction, but also I hope it has given leaders of this "great and noble" cause time to examine the skeletons in their closets, and maybe see a description of themselves in what they read

Remember, Flyer Sportsline is always open to feedback, so if you have iny comments, contact the Flyer at campus extension 246, or stop by Holoway Hall, room 202, in the SGA wing.

Defense Strong Point

Kickers Hot, Cold

Like October weather in Salisbury, the SSC soccer team has been running hot and cold and has kept everyone guessing as well.

But fortunately, as sure as the sun rises across Route 13 and sets somewhere behind Holloway Hall, the Gull defense is playing with consistent pre-

"The defense has been keeping us in the game," Coach Keith Conners asserted. All season long, Goalie Paul Zimmerman and his defensive backfield, led by Sandor Fodor and Vane Wiggins, have been giving up two things to opposing offenses: nothing and next to nothing.

Overall, it appears the team has reverted back to its up and down play that marked the beginning of the season. After running up four consecutive victories toward the end of September, the squad dropped two straight at home, to Mt. Saint Mary's and tough Millers-

The Gulls picked themselves back up day afternoon and put together what Conners termed "Salisbury soccer's biggest win ever" by toppling ranked Lynchburg, 1-0. Gene Adkins tallied the winner while Zimmerman picked up his third straight

In the following game, which SSC sports followers would rather forget about, the squad found themselves on the other end of a shutout as they were dumped by Randolph-Macon, 3-0. 'The team suffered a let down coming off of the big Lynchburg win," he explained.

Conners' troops rebounded and got back on the winning track Saturday by 1-0 count over visiting St. Mary's. Vane Wiggins, thus far the Gulls' leading scorer, tapped home the game's lone goal off of a shot deflected by the Saint's goalkeeper. The Salisbury defense held firm against a less-than-potent St. Mary's

The going won't get any easier for the 7-5 Sea Gull Booters as they will face UMBC at home today and then they'll travel to Towson State University to take on the tough Division I Tigers on Satur-

Oriole fever reached its peak at SSC before the fateful 7th game. Pictured above is an example of 6th floor Chester's support (photo by Jones)

Trainer's Corner

By Steve Wilson

The most common injury in basketball

sprain. A common cause is a player grabbing a rebound landing on someone else's foot, twisting it the wrong way. Other ways the injury can happen are stepping in a hole or stepping off a curb the wrong way. The result is usually a sprain, that is the stretching and/or tearing of ligaments which connect bone to bone.

The severity of the sprain can vary from mild, with little swelling and some pain; to severe, with immediate swelling, tenderness of the ankle, and extreme pain. A snap or pop of the ankle could mean a fracture. If any of these conditions exist I advise that x-rays be taken without Treatment: Whenever one suspects a sprain, wrap the ankle with an ace bandage. Wrap the entire area starting at the toes spiraling up the foot over the ankle to the base of the calf. Elevate the ankle and pack it in ice. Keep the ice on for 15 minutes and off for five. While the ice is off, walk or move the ankle in all directions to maintain the range of motion that's been inhibited due to the swelling. Repeat this four times, three times a day.

Use ice until swelling has significantly started to recede and pain in movement is minimal. This may take from three to five days. The area around the ankle commonly becomes black and blue. When these changes take place, heat, in the form of warm soaks and heat packs may be used.

If you have any questions, feel free to Contact the health center or training room.

Gary's Sports Scene

Best prices in sporting goods on the shore

Located only 1/2 mile south of the College 10% discount with SSC Id.

Court Plaza, Route 13 South Salisbury, Maryland 21801

ichioca AASSA (100) anna Bhane (301) 742t284A sonta

Tennis Captures 4th Straight Title

Becky Sweet, Kathy Graybeal and Teresa Landon won two titles each to help propel Salisbury State College to its fourth consecutive Maryland Association for intercollegiate Athletics for Women Tennis Championships crown here Saturday.

SSC finished with 63 points to easily outdistance the other seven schools in the tournament played at Towson State University. Frostburg State was a surprising second with 31½ points, while the host school finished third with 27 points.

Football Continued from page 14

Aided by Salisbury's inability to score from in close, Trenton dropped the Gulls from their national rating (fourth in the east).

SSC 21, Lock Haven State 14

The Salisbury defense held the Bald Eagles on four plays at the goal line with less than a minute left to preserve SSC's fifth victory of '79.

The goal-line stand, which many called the greatest SSC defensive effort ever, ended a Lock Haven comeback attempt that saw them rally from a 21-0 deficit.

Salisbury looked as though they were going to blow LHSC out of the stadium as they scored the first three times they had the football.

Freshman fullback Putt Johnson's 1-yard plunge capped an 8-minute, 89yard drive to give the Gulls their first TD. The drive was perhaps the Gulls best of the season.

SSC went back to its favorite method of scoring for their second score, as Chuck Hebron danced through the Peck, although SSC lost 15-9. Assistant Coach Peggy Troiano noticed that the team was playing more defense than offense. Setters Theresa Smelser and Norma Harrison kept the ball up for attacks by Robbie McNamara and Stacey Zentz. Attackers and defense players also included center attacker and blocker Kathy Griffiths, Barb King, Vanessa Glascoe, and Michelle Makar. The Gulls also put many dink shots over CCC's blockers, learning to put the ball where the opponent wasn't. Peck said the squad was making "mental errors and giving away points."

Volleyball Continued from page 14

Despite the Catonsville loss, the SSC volleyball team is learning to correct its errors. Peck gave an over-all evaluation of the team playing by saying the girls, "are using their heads more, weighing their options and they know what they can do. They're coming along, but still need work."

Salisbury State captured three of seven matches to score a sixth place finish in the eight-team East Stroudsburg College Invitational Friday and Volleyball

Vanessa Glascoe at attack and Norma Harrison at setter played particularly well for the She Gulls.

The Gulls began the tourney Friday

FILMS INCORPORATED

Sweet, playing in her first MAIAW tourney, downed Terry Gradl of Towson State 4-6, 6-2, 6-4 to win the No. 2 flight. Graybeal and Landon, like Sweet, seeded first in their flights, each posted their third consecutive MAIAW individual titles, Graybeal trimming Lee Ann Holmes of Frostburg State 6-1, 6-0, and Landon defeating Fran Byuscemi of Towson State

Salisbury State's Sue Foelber made the final round of the No. 1 flight singles for Eagle secondary 60 yards after a pass from Brosmer. Hebron's TD catch was his seventh of the year eclipsing the previous school record of six.

The Seagulls third touchdown came on a 28-yard pass from Brosmer to tight end Chip Rodgers, and Olson's third conversion made it 21-0.

Lock Haven, which came into the game rated tenth in their region with a 5-1 record, maintained their composure and scored twice before the first half ended to cut SSC's lead to 21-14.

Just as they did two weeks before with Hampden-Sydney, the Gull defense kept the Eagles from attaining any kind of field position with tough defense Barbour's punting, and tough coverage by the punt unit.

The Eagles then made their lastminute attempt at the goalline after a pass interference penalty gave them the ball at SSC's 2, but the goalline defense, led by Bryce Cox, Doug Morris, and Jay Jefferson, denied LHSC four straight times, and sent the Pennsylvanians home empty-handed.

night by dropping a 15-7, 15-6 decision to the host school, but SSC bounced back to whip Rutgers 15-7, 1-15, 16-14.

SSC fell to Army 9-15, 15-12, 15-10 Saturday morning to create a three-way tie for third between the Gulls, Army and Rutgers in their pool. Rutgers received a bye, having given up fewer points, and SSC topped Army 15-9. However, Rutgers trimmed the Gulls 15-13 to send SSC into the consolation bracket.

The Gulls started strong in the consolation bracket, topping Kutztown State 15-5, 16-14, before bowing to Army 5-15, 15-13, 15-6 in a battle for fifth place.

the fourth straight year, but the three time champion fell Saturday to Virginia O'Donnell of Mount St. Mary's 4-6, 6-1, 6-3. Foelber had defeated O'Donnell in three sets last year for the title.

However, Foelber bounced back to team with Sweet to take the No. 1 flight doubles crown, topping Jaime Barnes and Nancy Hopkins of Towson State 6-3, 6-0. Graybeal and Landon, seeded first as doubles flight by edging Cindy Lawyer and Sue Garrott of Frostburg State 6-2,

In one of the surprises of the tournament, the unseeded pairing of Kathy Smero and Jean Lawton of SSC stopped the top seeds in the No. 3 doubles flight, Amy Bittle and Laura Koogle of Frostburg State, 6-1, 6-0.

Price Breakthrough on soft contact lenses

Our supplier has cut his prices and we're passing the savings on to you.

Discover the comfort of sight without glasses!

New Low Price

plus: $40 examination fee

30-DAY FULL REFUND GUARANTEE OF $80 (Free return visits for six months)

SAME DAY SERVICE! In most cases we can fit you on the same day of examination.

COME IN FOR A FREE TRIAL FITTING

Route 13 in the Allenwood Shopping Center 1308 S. Salisbury Blvd. (near Salisbury State College) 742-6148

Eye examinations by appointment

Trade in your high school ring...

on any Jostens' College Ring

good $59

SPECIAL OFFERING TODAY!

A new LUSTRIUM College Ring-(America's newest fine jeweler's alloy) $68.95

Your cost with trade in...

Your Jostens College Ring

These Deluxe Features at No Extra Charge:

- Yellow 10K Gold or White 10K Gold
- Synthetic Birthstones or Sunburst Stones
- All Birthstone Colors Available
- Full Name Engraved or Facsimile Signature
- Stone Encrusting
- Available in 14K Gold, Argentus & Lustrium

N/-

... a timeless symbol of your achievements.

Date: Oct. 31 Time: 10:30-5:00

Place: Student Center

See our complete selection of rings at your bookstore.